WITNESS IN PRAISE, SERVANT IN CHRIST, GROWING IN FAITH THE LIFE-GIVING MINISTRY OF THE PASTORAL MUSICIAN

Marty Haugen

“I beg you to lead a life worthy of the calling to which you have been called . . . (Ephesians 4:1).” The vocation of the pastoral musician is more essential than ever in these times when the world so needs the message of the Gospel, and music remains one of the most powerful means of communicating that message. What we sing forms us as servants and witnesses of Jesus; how we sing inspires our communities and communicates God’s spirit. How do we draw upon the rich heritage of tradition, scripture and music in a way that speaks to our communities today? How can we continually renew our own spirit and vision? How do we weather and heal the conflicts and crises that inevitably confront us in our day-to-day work?

IN SPLENDID, VARIED WAYS: PREPARING MUSIC FOR INTERCULTURAL WORSHIP

Tony Alonso

“Intercultural Worship” is comprised of several critical dimensions of music: what it sounds like, who holds the power, who is leading it, how it is prepared, and how it is evaluated. Grounded in pastoral practice in Latino/Anglo communities, and in the guiding documents on multicultural worship, we will discuss how far we have come, and how far we have to go, to embrace the rich diversity of the contemporary landscape in our sung prayer.

A MUSICIAN’S GUIDE TO PRAISING GOD THROUGHOUT THE YEAR

Michael Ruzicki and D. Todd Williamson

There is a natural tension found between the busyness of the special liturgical seasons and the routine we encounter in the long months of Ordinary Time. How do we stay fresh in our ministry as pastoral musicians? What are the appropriate ways to praise God throughout the year? The liturgical year provides us the opportunity to unfold the entire mystery of Christ in the unfolding of its liturgical celebrations. Explore the purpose and theology of the seasons through the lenses of Sacred Scripture, particularly the Psalms and the Gospels.

LOCATION

EUCCHARISTIC ADORATION: A COMMUNAL INVITATION TO MISSION

Rick Hilgartner and Lorraine Hess

Eucharistic Adoration is a traditional Roman Catholic devotion. Vatican II’s emphasis on the ecclesial and missional nature of all worship invites us to reimagine a reformed version of Adoration. This session offers historical, theological, liturgical, and musical suggestions for communities who wish to shape vibrant experiences of Adoration that will nourish a truly Eucharistic vision of Church.

WHAT IT TAKES: CONTEMPORARY MUSIC IN WORSHIP*Ed Bolduc*

Is it possible to effectively lead worship with a band/contemporary ensemble and all kinds of instrumentation within a liturgical setting? It may seem overwhelming, or maybe even impossible to do well, especially if you are new to music ministry or if your parish offers liturgies with music in a variety of styles—and you are responsible for all of them. Experience a vision of contemporary pastoral musicianship that will inspire your assembly to be engaged, focused, and transformed by the liturgy and its music.

P-06

LOCATION

PRESSED INTO SERVICE: TRANSITIONING FROM PIANO TO ORGAN*Kelly Dobbs-Mickus*

An hour-long session for pianists who have been called to play the organ, including an exploration of easy repertoire for both hymn playing and solo playing.

P-07

LOCATION

ORGANIZATIONAL DEVELOPMENT IN THE PARISH, PART 1*Kathy Bartlett*

Who are you and how do others see you? How effective are you? We will explore some fundamentals for developing and growing in organizational effectiveness. Discover and understand who you are as a leader, and the gifts, talents, and strengths that you bring to the table. Then, explore how you can purposely strengthen your areas of giftedness, including discerning God's purpose for your life, so that you may have greater impact in your ministry while minimizing weaker areas and/or forming complementary relationships to enhance your overall effectiveness.

THE SINGING PRIEST*Ricky Manalo*

The Roman Missal, Third Edition places a renewed emphasis on chanting. Focusing on the beauty of the sung text, priests, deacons, and music directors will learn practical tools for chanting the liturgy in a way that will enhance the worship of your assembly.

P-09

LOCATION

HONORING OUR MUSICAL DIVERSITY—NEGOTIATING THE STYLE WARS*Dan Schutte*

Explore how music directors can integrate a variety of genres, including chant, contemporary, and traditional hymnody, to celebrate the richness of our sacred music heritage in the liturgy.

CREATING BEAUTIFUL WORSHIP AIDS THAT ASSIST THE PRAISING, GROWING, AND SERVING CHURCH*Chris Ferraro*

Worship aids assist members of the assembly in their task of full, active, and conscious participation. In addition to containing hymns, ritual music, responses, and an outline of the liturgy, they also serve to draw those using them deeper into prayer. Come and see how best to use worship aids in your parish, and learn some tips for layout, inserting music, and handling copyrights.

HOLY WEEK, MEET SPRING BREAK!

EXAMINING THE INTERSECTION OF THE LITURGICAL YEAR AND THE SCHOOL YEAR

Andrew Mountin and Angela Stramaglia

How do we help students to live out the fullness of the liturgical year? How do we draw our campus communities more deeply into the anticipation of Advent, the joy of Christmas, the prayerfulness of Lent, and the triumph of Easter—all while working around academic events such as spring break or the dreaded finals week? How can we cultivate an appreciation of Ordinary Time, and impress on students that it is anything but “ordinary”? Participate in this facilitated discussion about ways we can approach this particular balance, and ways to grow our celebration of the liturgical year so that both worship and academics can exist more harmoniously in campus settings. Bring your own experiences and ideas as we gather to learn from, and alongside, one another.

ARE NOT OUR HEARTS BURNING WITHIN US? LITURGY IN A TIME OF THE “NONES” AND NEW MEDIA

Ricky Manalo

Many congregations and religious institutions are becoming smaller and are aging; the younger generations are choosing not “to go” to Sunday Mass; “the Nones,” those unaffiliated with institutional religions, are on the rise, choosing to explore their spirituality through a variety of religious traditions and/or through the internet; and smartphones already have become a fixed reality within our worship spaces. So, what is the forecast of Sunday worship in a time of new media processes, digitalized religion, and individualized worship practices? Explore in more depth this serious question that is affecting our parishes, our liturgies, and, indeed, the next generation of pastoral musicians.

HOW CAN I KEEP FROM SINGING?

Bishop Mark Seitz

At the introductory Dialogue of the Preface, as the Body of Christ, the Church, prepares to enter into the very core of the Paschal Mystery, the priest intones, "Lift up your hearts." The assembly responds, "We lift them up to the Lord." But have they? Has he? This presentation will propose that sacred music is not just nice "window dressing" for the Liturgy, but rather a critical and essential element. It is inhuman to try to lift up our hearts without raising our voices in prayer and praise. In this talk learn not only the importance of sacred song, but also some principles that the Church outlines for the use of music in the Liturgy.

BROKEN BUT NOT DIVIDED: CONNECTING SACRAMENTS AND SERVICE

Ronald Raab

When we make music, we draw others into a prayerful experience of the living God. Our own personal prayer needs to be nourished so that our music-making inspires others. When we make music, we live out our own prayer. Fr. Ron Raab's ministry is one of living out prayer among the marginalized. His ministry among people living in poverty forms his faith, his life, and his service in the Church. We will take an honest and genuine look at our communal and personal prayer to help us make tangible connections between the Eucharist we share and the service we offer to others on a mission toward justice. How can our common faith become a source of healing for all?

GOING, GOING, GONE . . . THE DYNAMICS OF DISAFFILIATION IN YOUNG CATHOLICS

Bob McCarty

Saint Mary's Press recently conducted extensive research with young Catholics who have left the Church. This session will explore the underlying dynamics that lead to disaffiliation, describe the factors that reinforce those dynamics, and examine the implications for parish life, liturgy, and pastoral ministry. We will hear about these issues from young adults, and will propose pastoral strategies that will enhance affiliation and engagement with the faith community.

MOVING FROM HEAD TO HEART

Paul Inwood

An important aspect of our worship to explore is how our worship is perceived by those who participate in it. Is the assembly being formed by what takes place in the celebration, or are they just going through the experience without being changed by it? How could we do it better? We will explore a rich source of analytical tools and insights to help parish liturgy and music planners discover some of the many different ways in which the assembly reacts to what we provide for them, and the implications for future development.

After the Mega Breakout, join our Speakers in the Exhibit Hall for a meet-and-greet.

WHERE HAVE ALL THE CHILDREN GONE?

John Angotti

Beyond the oft-cited complaints about music, what are the real reasons young people are leaving their faith behind? Join John and a panel of young people, lay adults, and clergy to discuss a variety of questions received from social media, recorded video from people across the country, and those present. We will expand the discussion beyond music issues in an effort to to unveil reasons as to why people are leaving the faith.

BREATH OF GOD, BREATHE THROUGH ME

ValLimar Jansen

We are more than ministers of music, we are ministers of God’s love. Music is comprised of both sound and silence. This session will focus on the music between the breaths. We often focus on the power of music to bring love and true conversion to the people to whom we minister. But, how does music transform us as ministers of music? As the “Breath of God” breathes through us, in the form of sound and silence, we are invited to deepen our own growth toward spiritual maturity and holiness.

SING AS CHRIST INSPIRES YOUR SONG: THE JOY OF BEING A PASTORAL MUSICIAN

David Haas

Now more than ever, pastoral musicians are being called to be heralds of joy and blessing, proclaiming and affirming the precious joy and privilege of being ministers of sung prayer. In an era that has known burnout, discouragement, and growing cynicism, leading many to leave this most precious ministry, we need to renew the vision, our commitment, and our covenant, so that we can move forward with the “full, conscious and active participation” not just of the liturgy and through our music, but a new and courageous commitment to sharing our gifts in the life of Christ.

THE SIGNS AND SYMBOLS OF CATHOLIC LITURGY

Michael Ruzicki and Victoria M. Tufano

This session (a para-liturgical prayer experience) is equally formational and catechetical, as well as uplifting and inspiring. Catholic liturgy is a rich language composed of music, spoken word, silence, symbols, signs, postures, gestures, and ritual actions. Each of these elements serve to open our hearts, minds, and bodies to the presence of God, allowing us to deepen our participation in the mystery we celebrate. In this session, participants will explore the various elements of the liturgy, focusing on the role of the human body in our liturgical prayer.

FROM SEEDS TO ROOTS: THE TRANSFORMATION OF THE SACRED LITURGY*Moderated by Steve Petrunak, with Michael Joncas, Elaine Rendler-McQueeney, and Paul Turner*

Sacrosanctum Concilium (Constitution on the Sacred Liturgy), promulgated in December, 1963, provided massive, sweeping changes in the way Roman Catholics worship. In 1976, NPM was formed as a response to the needs of a Church that longed to more authentically worship God through sung prayer. While the theology of this document is the same today as it was then, our understanding of it has greatly developed over more than forty years. Come listen to Fr. Michael Joncas, Elaine Rendler-McQueeney, and Fr. Paul Turner, who were here at the beginning of NPM, and who have helped shape our understanding of the vision offered within Sacrosanctum Concilium. Explore how far we have come on this journey . . . and where we are headed.

THE LITURGICAL-PASTORAL-MUSICAL JUDGMENTS:

NOT JUST FOR OUR REPERTOIRE, BUT FOR OUR COMPETENCIES!

David Haas

These well known judgments which first came to us in 1972's Music in Catholic Worship, and were strengthened in Sing to the Lord (STL), can also be a prophetic banner for us to wave with commitment, to discern and examine our competencies as pastoral musicians. We will explore these three judgements as an "examination of conscience," as we evaluate the present, and challenge ourselves for the future.

THE LITURGIES OF HOLY WEEK: INCREASING ATTENDANCE AND PARTICIPATION

Michael Ruzicki and Wendy Silhavy

Paschale Solemnitatis #5 states that the Easter Triduum should be "celebrated in the best possible way so that the faithful may participate in it with ever greater spiritual advantage." In order to achieve this, clergy, liturgists, and pastoral musicians must work together, and inspire the faithful to assist with the various tasks required of Holy Week. Explore ways in which members of the pastoral staff and parish community can be co-laborers in the preparation and celebration of these important liturgies. Increase your understanding of the Paschal Mystery, how it is realized in one's life, and how it is celebrated throughout Holy Week. Discover ways the season of Lent prepares us for Easter, and how a parish can increase attendance and promote active participation in Holy Week liturgies.

S-06 LOCATION*HOPE: REAL-WORLD SOLUTIONS FOR THE INTERPERSONAL CHALLENGES OF PARISH SERVICELorraine Hess*

People who work in liturgy need a well-stocked interpersonal-relations toolbox to be true pastoral leaders. Not unlike those who work in human resources, music ministers must communicate effectively with clergy, other ministries, and choir members – but always in the context of our mission of discipleship, and love of God and neighbor. Explore proven techniques for working well with other members of parish leadership, finding patience when working with volunteers, and tips for avoiding burnout. Through storytelling, case studies, scripture, humor, and music (of course), you will discover helpful new ways to deal with the interpersonal challenges of parish service.

S-07 LOCATION*ORGANIZATIONAL DEVELOPMENT IN THE PARISH, PART 3Kathy Bartlett*

Understand your role and how your ministry fits into the overall parish mission and vision. Learn how to be active in the planning and structuring of your ministry for maximum effectiveness, how to work together to enhance the worship experience for your congregation, and challenge your ministry members and congregation to “Go Out and Proclaim the Good News!”

S-08 LOCATION*ASSESSING THE LITURGICAL LIFE OF YOUR PARISHMike Novak*

It’s always harder to evaluate the liturgies at your own parish because you are directly involved. What you need is a process that enables you to go deeper than personal preferences and opinions. The approach offered here is grounded thoroughly in the liturgical documents, gives an objective starting point for all your discussions, and generates goals for follow up. When you are finished with this workshop you will have a method that you can use repeatedly to assess many aspects of your parish’s liturgical life.
